

CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

Contagious Blood Poison more thoroughly poisons the blood than any other disease. Every part of the body is affected when the virus becomes entrenched in the circulation; red eruptions break out on the skin, the mouth and throat ulcerate, glands in the neck and groin swell, the hair falls out, copper-colored blotches appear on the body, etc.

I was afflicted with blood poison, and the best doctors did me no good, though I took their treatment faithfully. In fact I seemed to get worse all the while. I took almost every so-called blood medicine, but they did not seem to reach the disease, and had no effect whatever. I was abandoned. At the advice of a friend I then took S. S. S. and began to improve. I continued the medicine, and it cured me completely.

Hamel, N. C. W. H. NEWMAN.

So highly contagious is this disease that many a life has been ruined by a friendly hand shake or from using the toilet articles of one affected with the poison. To cure this hideous and fatal disease a constitutional remedy is required. S. S. S. goes down to the very root of the trouble and forces out every particle of the virus from the blood and cures the disease permanently. S. S. S. is purely vegetable and drives out the trouble, root and branch, and no signs of it are ever seen again. Those who have been cured by S. S. S. can feel assured that none of the poison is left in the blood, to transmit to innocent offspring. The entire body is built up and the blood made pure, rich and healthy by this great remedy. Book with instructions for home treatment and any medical advice desired will be given free of charge.

DOWNFALL OF WEYAND

Leavenworth Man Went the Whiskey Route and Carried off His Feet.

Leavenworth, Kansas, Aug. 21.—The Times says:

"Once a prosperous lawyer, enjoying the friendship and respect of government and railroad officials, standing high in the world, delegate from Iowa to four national conventions, and related to Congressman Pennington and General Wood, J. W. Weyand was yesterday in police court yesterday. Weyand was admitted to the bar in Iowa in 1877, and practiced law for a number of years in Cedar Rapids, coming west to take a position with the Rock Island, given him by M. A. Law. In this connection he had charge of the sale of town lots along the railroad's right of way from Smith Center to Muskogee, and says that in one year his commissions amounted to over $10,000. Weyand, once known as 'Carroll,' 'John Barker,' and 'Thomas P. Pennington,' of this city, and in court yesterday corroborated his statements, described, etc.

That he once had practiced law was evidenced by the fact that he readily answered some knotty legal questions put to him by Judge Bodine. Weyand had a son on a newspaper in Cedar Rapids, and a married daughter in Dakota, but the 'booze route' has carried him far from his family and friends, until he is a homeless wanderer. Weyand had been hanging around the Rock Island at the corner of Seventh and Main streets, and a man, claiming that he tried to pass a bogus check, but as this was not proved, Weyand was released. He announced his intention of departing for Topeka, where he claims to have friends who will help him.

BE CAREFUL OF BROMIDES.

(From Medical Magazine.)

Taking bromides is a very common practice. A multitude of nervous people are in the habit of going to the drug store and getting some bromide to take. Bromide is taken as a sleep medicine. It is taken by those who drink too much to sober up on. Bromides are taken for nervousness, for epilepsy and for a host of other ailments.

But bromides are poison. The people do not seem to understand this. Dr. C. C. Stockard of Atlanta, Ga., sent a paper last of the Medical Association of Georgia last April. He said among other things: "During the past few years I have seen a great many cases of bromide poisoning. Some of them resulting from a lack of knowledge on the part of physicians and to the efforts of bromides and others showing that the people look upon bromides as harmless remedies. The number of cases of bromide poisoning is increasing. The failure on the part of physicians to recognize the condition and the real seriousness of it, have led me to the conclusion that a paper calling the attention of the profession to the subject would be of real value."

Then this physician goes on to describe cases of bromide poisoning, cases that other physicians failed to recognize. It appears that there are doctors who will go on and give bromides and actually poison their patients without knowing that they are poisoning them. The most common symptoms of bromide poisoning, according to this doctor, are: Deep and lasting sleep; drowsiness; trembling; dropping things from the hands; walking with an unsteady gait; dragging of the feet; drawing speech; thick tongue; drooping eyes; gummy skin; foul and metallic odor of the breath; constipation; a white, slimy substance, followed by a red streaked tongue. These and many other symptoms describe the awful condition which the doctors are producing by dosing their patients with bromides.

The point to which we wish to call the attention of our readers is the fact that it is necessary for one doctor to place up his hands in this manner to the other doctors. It certainly shows there must be a good deal of unnecessary drugging going on. When it becomes necessary for a prominent physician to stand up before a convention of doctors and describe to them how they are poisoning their patients with bromides, poisoning them without knowing it, when it becomes necessary for doctors to say these things to each other it is time the people knew something about it.

We wish to put ourselves on record as saying that bromides rarely do good, and generally do harm. In fact, bromides always do harm, even in those few cases where they do some good. Bromides thin the blood, derange the stomach, weaken the nervous system and will finally produce a condition far worse than the condition for which they are taken.

The doctors are responsible for the fact that thousands of people in every state in the Union are taking bromides. The doctors continue to give them bromides until the people learn to go to the drug stores and get them for themselves. The people generally regard bromides as harmless. They take them in unlimited quantities. Next to quinine, we believe that bromides are doing more harm in this country than any other drug that can be mentioned.

The doctors are mixing a loyal about patent medicines. We do not hesitate to say that the harm done by all the patent medicines in this land is but a small fraction of the harm that bromides are doing. We believe that any medicine may be used in such a way as to become harmful. Patent medicines, as well as regular medicines, may be used to the harm of the patient. But by actual comparison, the patent medicines are not doing a tithe of the harm that the regular medicines used by the doctors are doing. Quinine has made millions of nervous wrecks. Bromides follow close behind.

We exhort our readers to have nothing whatever to do with bromides. Do not imagine that because they bill your nervousness for a few moments that they are doing you good. They are doing you great harm. Let them entirely alone. If you have been accustomed to taking them, quit at once. There is no harm worse than the bromide habit. It is far worse than the drink habit in its effect upon the human system.

Owl, I. T., Aug. 21.—This morning at 6 o'clock lightning struck the cupola of the new Methodist church at this place, practically demolishing it. The explosion tore through the west end of the house, tearing out a large hole. It then passed through the double doors, splintering them, passing through a block under the doors, splitting it open. Another bolt passed down the road on the north side, tearing off the shingles and letting in the rain, which ruined the paper. The conclusion of the explosion broke twenty-three lights out of forty in the building. The church was new and services had only been held in it three times. THOS. W. HUNTER TALKS.
Special to Daily Leader.

Says the Department Will Never Sell Lands According to P.B.L.

ment for the fourth time to dispose of the segregated lands has convinced Mr. Hunter that the attempt will be futile. Legislation is needed in the department of the land area, he says.

Speaking of the failure of the department in the matter, Mr. Hunter said that the main reason was due to the plan to sell the coal land in 360 acre tracts. "If the department," he said, "would undertake to sell the lands with one and a half acre tracts, it would be a person a corporation could buy I think before that the area could be disposed of in short order. The companies show no disposition to purchase small tracts. The department has fixed a minimum price and it seems that the lands have never as promised. For this reason the department has turned down the recent bids. The only plan that I see to sell the lands without restriction or limitation."

Mr. Hunter states that Co. Cheatek legislative is sent, authorized Green McCutcheon, the present chief of the nation, to dispose of the coal lands and Mr. McCutcheon was given full authority to do as he pleased in the matter. The authority of the tribal legislature is questioned. Mr. Hunter thinks that nothing will be accomplished by McCutcheon, nor does he favor the plan in the least. Should the governor sell the lands he will be paid a commission of $5,000,000.
